

Dorotea Zjalic has a Bachelor's degree in International Relations from the University of Bologna, Italy.

Sponsored by the University of Bologna, she is writing her Master's thesis on refugees and IDPs return policies in Bosnia and Herzegovina in order to understand the effectiveness and the adequacy of these projects. Moreover she is focusing on the sustainability of returns analysing the local dynamics of return process in the Municipality of Prijedor. The internship at the CESI Centre represents for her a great opportunity to bridge the knowledge gained from the formal studies with a direct insight into the experiences of refugees and internal displaced persons within Bosnia and Herzegovina.
